The new Google Calendar app helps you spend less time managing your schedule and more time enjoying it. Photo Courtesy: Image Source/Stockbyte/Getty Images It seems like everyone is busier these days, and keeping up with everything from work deadlines to kids’ sports practices to your pet’s vet appointments can make things complicated — there’s a lot to juggle, after all. It’s true the digital age has provided us with a multitude of apps, device and gadgets that help us manage our scheduling conundrums, but sometimes we remember things best when we write them down on paper, old-school style, with physical calendars we can display. Calendar pages also come in handy for doing crafts, teaching young children and maintaining shared schedules at work and at home. Fortunately, you don’t need to head out to an office supply store and purchase a calendar. You can print one right now from home or while you’re at work when you check out the myriad options available on these websites with printable calendar templates. Waterproofpaper.com Waterproofpaper.com is a retail site that sells all things related to — as you might guess — waterproof paper, from copier paper to notebooks and even waterproof pens and pencils. That said, the site also has a few extras for shoppers, including free printable calendars. The options here are basic, but if you’re looking for a simple solution and don’t want to search through pages of different designs and templates, this site is a convenient resource. You can print by the year or the month up to seven years in advance. Each calendar template is designed to fit neatly on a standard 8.5-inch by 11-inch sheet of paper. Photo Courtesy: Waterproofpaper.com To print the calendar you like, simply choose the year or month you want, download the PDF file of the template and choose the print option on your computer. The calendars here are simple with clean lines and basic colors. They also include federal and major holidays for extra convenience. Timeanddate.com Timeanddate.com is a site that provides you with access to and information on time zones, world clocks, weather, moon and sun schedules, timers, calculators and even some fun apps. It also allows you to access free printable calendar templates that have a few customization options. You can give the calendar of your choice a title, choose which country you live in, pick the year and months you want to be a part of your calendar, and then select any additions you want. These include major public holidays, common observances, religious observances for various faiths, moon phases, astronomy events and international observances. After adding a few more details, you can download the calendar via a PDF file and print it. Photo Courtesy: Timeanddate.com For full customization, select the site’s Advanced Calendar Creator from the Calendar tab on the homepage. Once you’re in the Creator, you can design a fully customized calendar in multiple languages. You’ll have the ability to choose everything from local state holidays to specific formatting elements to color-coding selections for each day of the week. Calendarlabs.com Calendarlabs.com is another source for all things time and date, no matter what type of calendars you’re looking for. Options here go beyond the basic monthly and yearly calendars and include astrology calendars, daily planners, school calendars, photo calendars, fiscal calendars, bank holiday calendars, world holiday calendars and family calendars. After downloading this site’s calendars you can edit and update many of the files using Microsoft Office tools. However, you also have the option to print them directly from the site by choosing a printable format for the one you need. Photo Courtesy: Calendarlabs.com The site also offers totally blank printable calendars that are customizable for any month and year. In addition to calendars, the website offers information about religious holidays for different faiths, options to make your own photo calendar, a world clock, widgets and information about today’s date in history. Office.com When you need any sort of office-related template, Microsoft Office software is always a great resource. You can also find printables, like free calendars, at the software’s official website, Office.com. Customize monthly calendars for any time of any year by changing up start dates, fonts, colors and more. You can edit the template right in your browser, and you can share it with students, coworkers and family members so that multiple people can access and edit it before you print it. Beyond the basics, you’ll find dozens of different printable calendar templates on the site, including daily planners, social media calendars, illustrated calendars and more. Many of the options here are much more colorful than the others on this list, with bright artwork and themes that can add some pizzazz to your office wall. Photo Courtesy: Microsoft Office It’s worth noting that you’ll need to have a subscription to Microsoft Office or already have access to the program if you want to download the templates. Even if you choose to edit them in your browser, you’ll need to be signed in to your Office account or to a Hotmail or Outlook email address to do so. Teamup.com Want a blend of digital and physical for the best of both worlds with your calendar? Teamup.com is the site for the Teamup calendar, a virtual calendar that allows groups like classrooms, offices and families to edit and work from the same online source via their computers and mobile devices. But the website also offers several free printable calendar templates. Choose from daily, three-day, weekly, bi-weekly, monthly and yearly options. Photo Courtesy: Teamup.com Once you select the template you want, it’ll pop up in a new browser window, and you can select which dates you want to print. Once you’ve customized your template to your liking, you can simply select the option to print, and you’ll have an easy-to-access calendar that you can keep on your desk or hang on a bulletin board or the fridge. MORE FROM QUESTIONSANSWERED.NET Photo Courtesy: shapecharge/E+/Getty Images We all have busy days packed with everything from dentist appointments to the kids’ soccer practices to the conference calls we aren’t exactly looking forward to. And while we’re used to running from task to task in a flurry to get everything done, some of us might never get used to remembering everything we have to do — not without a little help, at least. That’s where online calendar templates come in. Often available for free, these tools help you maintain your schedule, stay organized and better anticipate what you need to remember each day to relieve some of the stress that comes along with juggling a busy life. Learn how to get the most out of the free online calendar template you choose by applying these helpful tips. Remind Yourself One of the great things about using online calendars is that they’re brimming with features that paper planners can’t support. One of the most convenient of these is that you can set reminders that alert you when you have an appointment coming up, when you need to complete a to-do list task or during any other time you need some extra encouragement. A digital calendar can send notifications to your email inbox or your smart device, which is especially helpful for getting your attention if you’re immersed in a task that can leave you losing track of time. If you’re still in the process of choosing an online planner, look for one with this functionality. Customize and Tailor Another great feature of online templates is that they’re often fully customizable, meaning you can choose everything from the page layouts to the fonts to the colors of the date boxes. This helps things look appealing if you’re planning to print some of the pages out, of course, but it also means that you can switch things up to ensure the template includes everything you need. This is a major advantage over traditional, book-style planners that are pre-printed — you can’t change what’s on those pages. With a digital template, on the other hand, you can easily move rescheduled appointments to new slots without having to cross out large chunks of text. You can also design the template to suit your needs. Maybe you want to add a small section to each daily column where you can write down your menu plans. Or, maybe you want a page at the beginning of each month where you can write down and track goals. Online calendars let you add these and many other features seamlessly so your templates are personalized to meet your exact needs. Know What to Include Because there are so many elements you can add as you’re customizing your template, it can become overwhelming before you realize it. Think about what you’ll really use, remembering that you can adjust later. Another helpful thing to consider? The ways you should use the template and what you should actually write down. You might be tempted to include everything, but that can quickly eat up space on the pages and make things difficult to read. It’s better to leave some blank space and write down what’s most important, like appointments, meetings and other events you know you’re likely to forget. It’s also a wise idea to write down what’s important to you personally, whether that’s recording a short note about how the day went or tracking how many glasses of water you drank. Just remember that you don’t need to fill every bit of blank space, even if you can delete some of the text later. Plan to Plan As you move through the week, the coming days in your schedule will fill up with new appointments and tasks. It helps to set aside a block of time on your calendar to manage your to-do list. It might sound kind of odd to plan for planning, but it’ll help you get the most out of your calendar in the long run. Before a new week starts — say, on Sunday night — schedule a half hour or so to go over what you need to do during the coming days. Use this time to refine your schedule, adding in blocks of transition time between meetings and other appointments so you’re not rushing from one thing to the next because all your obligations are timed back to back. This can help you save time later in the week, and it can also get you used to using your calendar, making it a habit. Plus, you’ll feel less frazzled having that built-in time when you can pause, regroup and prepare for the next task. Don’t Be Afraid to Switch Things Up If you’ve never really used an online planner before, you might find that the template you initially chose is something you don’t end up loving. Maybe you notice that you’re not using it as much as you intended to because it’s missing some features you wanted, or perhaps you decided to try monthly planning when you already knew weekly worked well for you. Don’t feel like you have to stick with the current template just because you started with it. The goal is to make your life easier, not add something to it that you dread using. The beauty of using a digital calendar is that it’s easier to search for and find a new design that’s more appealing to you. Be flexible and willing to engage in a little trial and error to find the calendar that meets your needs. MORE FROM QUESTIONSANSWERED.NET
